

THE 72ND IEGA ANNUAL CONFERENCE WRAP-UP

The 72nd IEGA Annual Conference was another successful, informative and entertaining event. Our keynote speaker, Peter Muir delivered a high energy program titled "Assuring Your Successful Future Through Strategic Readiness and Education". Peter's presentation was a perfect lead-in to an update of the Education Committee's current project, "Design To Touch", under the guidance of Rose Gonnella, Kean University, Union, NJ and Rob Busch, Education Committee Chair. You will be receiving additional information on this project as it is completed.

The spouses/guests of the attendees enjoyed a bus tour to Robert Redford's Sundance Resort. Thanks to Katie Dumouchel for handling the arrangements. The traditional Associate Member's table top exhibit provided the opportunity to see and hear about the products and services that are provided by their companies. Thanks to the following Associate Member companies for their participation and the sponsorship of the group dinner following the exhibit.

Anderson & Vreeland, Inc.
Buzz Sales Company, Inc.
Crane & Company
Magnesium Elektron, N.A., Inc.
Mitsubishi Imaging (MPM), Inc.
Mohawk Fine Papers, Inc.
Neenah Paper
Owosso Graphic Arts, Inc.

Not to be overlooked was the golf outing at the very challenging South Mountain Golf Club at nearby Draper, Utah. As usual, the Conference finale is the Saturday evening Awards Dinner. Everyone enjoyed a new program, featuring a collection of photographs from past conferences and accompanied by appropriate music. This will continue in the future, with additional photos being added each year. Thanks to Brad and Anita Cannaday for this wonderful program.
